2014 FIM Trial World Championship

Round 3 - Grand Prix d'Europe - Ile Rousse (Corsica) France.

Decision of the FIM International Disciplinary Court

The five WorldPro Trial Riders against whom disciplinary proceedings were opened following incidents that occurred in the World Pro category on 24 May in Ile Rousse, Corsica, on the first day of the Grand Prix d'Europe, Messrs Toni Bou, Albert Cabestany, Jeroni Fajardo, Takahisa Fujinami and Adam Raga, appeared at a hearing before the FIM International Disciplinary Court (CDI) in Geneva on 6 October 2014.

The decision of the CDI, sitting as a Single Judge, in the person of Mrs Clotilde Galy (FR), was notified to the aforementioned Riders at the end of last week. The Single Judge found no evidence to support a finding that the five Riders were guilty of reprehensible sporting misconduct. Consequently, no sanctions have been imposed on the Riders concerned.

A propos de la FIM (www.fim-live.com)

The FIM (Fédération Internationale de Motocyclisme) founded in 1904, is the governing body for motorcycle sport and the global advocate for motorcycling. The FIM is an independent association formed by 109 National Federations throughout the world. It is recognised as the sole competent authority in motorcycle sport by the International Olympic Committee (IOC). Among its 52 FIM World Championships the main events are MotoGP, Superbike, Endurance, Motocross, Supercross, Trial, Enduro, Cross-Country Rallies and Speedway. Furthermore, the FIM is also active and involved in the following areas: public affairs, road safety, touring and protection of the environment. The FIM was the first international sports federation to impose an Environmental Code in 1994.
